

PHOTOGRAPHS (THIS PAGE) JOHN MERKL; (OPPOSITE) HRIDAYGAGAN SINGH

LUXURIOUS DIP

Nothing spells luxury quite like a sunken, built-in tub. They remind us of outdoor pools, yet they're much sleeker, smarter, and have an inherent sophistication to them. To create seamless, uninterrupted views in the bathroom, choose uniform tiles for the floor and the tub - preferably muted ones that invoke a restful vibe. A sculptural stool and foliage will add to the overall environment. 'We designed this space to be as beautiful on the inside as that of the view outside,' says Kristen Peña, founder of K Interiors.

GET THE LOOK Vintage stool, Love Adorned. Artwork, John Casado

SERENE ESCAPE

When the weather is chilly and the world seems gloomy, there are few better places to be than in a toasty hot tub – but no need to book an appointment for one. In larger homes, install this ‘swim spa’ inside the bathroom or an outdoor area. While store-bought hot tubs are well stocked with extra features, consider customisation, too. Choose between stone, wood or even concrete designs, along with coloured glass tiles for a unique look.

GET THE LOOK Design by K Interiors. Chair, CB2 ▶